Boys Captured Here Convicted In Murder Case

Truckee Officer is Witness For Five Hours At Redding

BULLETIN

Robert Sturm and James McKay were found guilty of first degree murder by a Shasta County superior court jury which did not make a recommendation for leniency, a verdict which automatically carries the death penalty. The case will be reviewed by the state court of appeal.

Robert Sturm and James McKay, the two youths arrested here last summer by State Patrolmen William Gautsche and George Schrom, were expected to take the witness stand in their own defense in Redding today as their trial on murder charges nears a conclusion.

The two were accused of the brutal slaying of two Shasta County deputies, Earl Sholes and Daniel Heryford, as the officers were returning them from Seattle after their escape from a youth authority camp.

Patrolman Gautsche was one of the principal prosecution witnesses and spent several days at the trial and was on the stand for five hours to tell of the purported admissions of guilt made by the two suspects.

BRIDGE PROBLEM AT FLORISTON IS VITAL ONE

A delegation of residents from Floriston appeared before the board of supervisors at Nevada City last week to petition for a new bridge to replace the one washed out by the flood of the Truckee River two weeks ago.

H. G. Loehr of Truckee, chairman of the board, explained that the supervisors are helpless to give aid since the road spanning the river at Floriston is privately owned and public funds cannot be allocated toward such a project.

Lynne Kelly, Grass Valley attorney, was spokesman for the petitioners and pointed out that the destruction of the bridge has left several families virtually isolated, with the exception of the Southern Pacific trains which cannot be used as scheduled to take children to school and adults to work.

Kelly told the board that the suspension foot bridge over the river at Floriston was weakened by the flood and that he had been advised that the Sierra Pacific Power Company, its owner, planned to remove it.

The bridge which was destroyed was purchased and installed by the property owners at Floriston with the aid of Preston Wright, who purchased the town several years ago and sold property there.

The situation offers a serious handicap to the residents of the town who are seeking some means of replacing the span.

TAHOE TIMBER LEAVES HOBART FOR RENO SITE

J. K. Metzger, president of the Tahoe Timber Company, announced last week that his company has acquired 100 acres of land near Reno and will move the sawmill, now operating at Hobart Mills, to the new location during the winter months.

The mill will be installed on South Verdi Road, about two miles west of Reno and the plant will consist of mill, dry kilns, a spur track, shipping facilities and everything needed for the operation. The move will be completed by March.

The Tahoe Timber Company took over the mill at Hobart last summer. The move was decided upon, the management said, because the project is tied in with the Vaughn and Johnson industries of Reno and facilities are more available.

The timber will continue to come from this area and the logs will be hauled over US Highway 40 to the new location. All workers will be employed locally, Metzker said, and about 75 men will be employed.

Logs for the operation will be purchased from the Fibreboard Corporation, the Tahoe National Forest and private holdings.

The move will not effect the operation of the Fibreboard Corporation here, it was announced.

More Robberies Reported Here For Past Week

Gateway Cafe Is Entered, Food, Smokes, Cash Are Stolen

Three more recent burglaries were added to the chain of minor crimes which have baffled the local police during the past several weeks.

Saturday night or Sunday morning, thieves broke into the rear door of the Gateway Park Cafe, a mile west of town, and escaped with a baked ham, four cartons of cigarettes, $15 in cash and other tems, according to Earl Van Uden's report to Constable N. F. Dolley.

Van Uden said the thieves evidently arrived shortly before him Sunday morning as car tracks in the snow were clearly visible and the refrigerator door had been left open but no defrosting had started.

Earlier the lodge at Hirschdale was broken into and 18 bottles of whiskey, cash and other things taken while the owners were away for the Thanksgiving holiday.

The office at the division of highways' maintenance station here was entered two weeks ago and a typewriter stolen, Dolley reported.

Earlier this fall, the Stone Garage, the Gateway Garage, the doughnut shop west of town and two or three homes were burglarized. Dolley said all the bur glaries had the earmarks of local affairs.

If there are things wrong with the current methods of school teaching, we are not qualified to discuss them, but one thing we do know and that is that the arts and crafts exhibit which was on display in the show window at Cabona's would do credit to a much larger school than the high school which prepared the fine display. The talent expressed in drawings, paintings and other items should be encouraged and developed. The three R's are vital in education and no one can dispute this, but the advancement of arts and development of other worth-while characteristics in the formative years is perhaps of equal importance and we believe should be promoted. We look forward to viewing similar displays by the young people of the region.

In commenting editorially upon the progressive attitude of the Nevada County board of supervisors since the election of Supervisor H. G. Loehr of Truckee as chairman, Ken Wray, publisher of the Nevada City Nugget, expressed the opinion of most of us. He wrote: "Since Loehr assumed the chairmanship of the board we have noticed a more businesslike attitude during sessions of our supervisors and a quick completion of the administrative tasks, with less time consumed in dawdling and doodling."

Chamber Study Of Consolidation Of Boards Opens

Bond Issue Vs. Taxation Financing Issue Discussed

At their meeting in the California Cafe last Thursday evening, members of the board of directors of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce discussed the possibility and advisability of consolidating some of the various public boards in Truckee.

It was decided to write a letter to Senator Harold Johnson at Roseville asking him to ascertain whether or not state laws permit the consolidation and what steps are necessary in event such a move is found desirable.

The board also discussed road conditions and the urgent need for improvements of U.S. Highway 40 which was closed for several days recently due to flood conditions.

Another current problem pertaining to the tax bills from the Truckee Sanitary District was discussed and Supervisor H. G. Loehr, who attended the meeting, pointed out the advantages of a complete survey of the district and a subsequent bond issue to put the district's facilities in condition as compared to the present plan of high taxes to do the work.

Spokesmen agreed that a bond issue, spread over a long period of time, would keep current taxes within a reasonable limit and not require increased assessments. Since the benefits to be derived would also be far reaching and long standing the bonding method was held more fair to taxpayers.

Reginald Smart presided at the meeting.

The chamber directors will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the Goodfellow's Coffee Shop for further discussion of pending business.

Record Set As Storm Continue To Bring Rain

Storms Could've Brought 20 Feet of Snow To Truckee

The 1950-51 season very easily can set an all-time record for precipitation, according to figures compiled by the U. S. Forest Service here.

While there a few short periods when the record was not kept, the precipitation thus far for the year is close to 1937-38 when the season's total went to 47.16 inches —four inches more than the preceding high-point year of 1889-90 when 43.18 inches, principally in snow, was recorded.

The total precipitation for this season up to Wednesday morning, was 21.70 inches, compared to a seasonal normal to date of 3.78 inches, according to William Curran, assistant fire control officer, who with Ranger E. E. Boehm keeps weather records for the forest service here.

4.06 Inches in Storm

The recent December 3 storm, which again threatened floods and resulted in Highway 40 being closed for a short period Sunday night, brought 4.06 inches of rain. The total December normal is only 4.48 inches.

If the season continues with only a normal rate of precipitation, the figure anticipated for August 31, when the season ends, will be 45.92 inches, Curran said, coming within 1.24 inches of the all-time high of 1937-38.

Normal Only 27.38

The normal precipitation for the full season here is only 27.38 inches, or only about six inches more than has already been totalled.

Sunday's storm, which followed a light snowfall Saturday afternoon, caused the streams in the area to again tax their banks and resulted in considerable damage to roads, trails and bridges throughout the district.

Erosion Damage

Boehm said a sorry condition exists throughout the Tahoe National Forest where erosion damage followed the bulldozing of logging roads, resort projects, fires and wherever the natural growth of timber and brush on the hillsides was disturbed. In low valleys, rich meadow lands were covered with a thick blanket of gravel, sand and dirt washed down by the torrents during the storm. Squaw Valley, he said, offers a typical example of erosion damage, while in scores of other locations similar harm was done.

Highway Closed Briefly

The repair on Highway 40 at Mystic remained despite the flood water but traffic was restricted for a time. The highway was closed again at Cisco for a time when water covered the pave ment. The river rose at the rate of six inches an hour for a t but quickly receded as soon the rain stopped. The river agai lapped the tops of levees in Ren and in the Sacramento and othe valley cities and towns but no further damage there was recorded.

Had the rain, which has been falling here for the past several weeks, been snow, the forest service estimates there would have been a fall of nearly 20 feet with a pack of well over 10 feet on the ground.

SWANEE'S TAHOE LETTER

Tahoe City, Dec. 3rd

Dear Tahoeites:

What a grim sight this ordinarily beautiful lake is tonight, with gray water hitting the beach in angry tempo and deeper gray beyond the thin line of pale green a hundred feet from shore. The entire south end is blocked off from vision by a white sheet of rain which has been falling since early Saturday evening. A few inches of snow preceded the rain and everyone was jubilant, anticipating that winter snows in abundance for skiing had at last arrived.

I attended the Lake Tahoe Ski Club's "sweater party" at Tahoe Inn last night and it has been years since I witnessed the fun and gaiety which continued all night. A crowd estimated at around 160 persons filled to capacity the dance floor and crowded the dining room for the delicious buffet supper served just before midnight. Music was grand and was furnished by Mrs. Record, Vic Ferris, Phil Olander, Bill Jenkinson and piano player Bob Taylor. All money above expenses will go to purchase Norwegian skiing sweaters of navy blue and white for the senior members of the club's competitive team. Junior members will be furnished uniform parkas and all will carry the club emblem.

Much of the success of the dance was due to the efforts of Miss Carolyn Bolton and Terry Tollefson, the former also in charge of rounding up the delicious dishes which complimented the turkey and ham courses. A few out-of-town guests who returned just for the occasion included the Charles Beardsleys and daughters of Oakland, the Rod Yeakels of Roseville and John J. Cunningham of San Jose, who joined his family at their Tahoe Park home. Winners of the prize "potato dance" were the Max Porters and the John Cunninghams. The schottische was won by the Oscar Quams and the Phil Geiers took the old fashioned waltz. Pete Vanni and Bert Brolund were also prize winners.

The John Cunninghams, new residents of Tahoe Park tract, have rented the Emil Sattler home. The arrived some three months ago. Cunningham is a general contractor from San Jose. On November 29 their son, Niel, was seven years old so a party was arranged by his mom for his entire class at school, his teacher, Mrs. Uhlah Brown, participating. The children enjoyed individual cupcakes, each with a lighted candle, and popcicles and later a balloon scramble was held in the auditorium with lucky youngsters catching the prize balloons. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Summit Scene

by FRAN COUILLARD

From our lofty perch, we often think of ourselves as dwelling on Olympus. During the last month we have hanged the name of our abode to Mt. Ararat and have perused the first two books of the Ancient Book as we refreshed our memories of Noah. Our recent floods perhaps have not reached the intensity of the destructive waters of biblical times, when the waters increased for 190 days, but we have gazed westward to pierce the veil of moisture anticipating that the valley refugees might come floating toward our Ararat in a modern Ark.

Recently we read that the caves of the Sierra were being considered as hideouts for the city victims of the A-Bomb. Seeing as how it is our snows and precipitation that rush to the lower basins that cannot hold them, we offer our caves to the victims of the floods. When a neighbor cries that a mere puddle of water has extinguished his furnace or that contaminated water has run into his week or that the kids cannot go out to play on account of the wetness, we place our finger on our lips to keep bad words where they belong. And when we see the transcontinental sidewalk on which we reside buckle up and writhe like a snake and hear radio reports such as "sidewalk 40 closed" due to flood conditions, we keep our finger on our lips.

A horrible bugaboo raised its ugly head with flood No. 2: "The Norden Dam is about to go out!" Frantic souls living on the river's edge and who would have to climb over a 20 or 30 foot wall of water should the dam have busted passed a very restless Sunday night. In spite of the PG &E patrols who assured the frantic souls that the dam would hold and that if any danger loomed whatever said souls would be warned, we'll agree that it wasn't a pleasant thought to live with and we ran a rivulet or two of perspiration ourselves.

Next Spring we will gaze into the laughing waters of the Yuba and the Truckee with more respect than we have heretofore and slant our glance downward as we remember the winter of '50 when they knocked at our doors wtih more force than need be.

The Community Club December dinner will be held at Kiski Lodge December 7, a turkey dinner with all the trimmings for a buck. For a quarter of that the kids can have a plateful and after they've finished their repast they will adjourn to the playroom to view a movie whilst the grownups elect their officers for next year. In spite of Lola Schull's operations of this year, we have a darned good hunch that Lola will have her spoon in the dinner pot and that is the magic that will bring a good 80 or 90 members of the club to put their feet under the good, sturdy, family style tables of Kiski Lodge.

To prove that rain, sleet, snow and tempest cannot down the hearty spirit of the party-bent mountaineer, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Hogle celebrated their wedding anniversary with a Chinese dinner at Ice Lakes last Saturday night. Bud and Barb Zorich, Wanda and Virg Misener, ourselves, Bill Rutherford and the Hogles climbed into Rutherford's station wagon which was chain equipped on each wheel and started out in a snow storm that made us sing Christmas carols, so beautiful and holidayish was it. Whilst we ate and chatted, the knocking on the window told us that the freak which is temperature this season had again changed and the downy snow had switched to watery rain. The goodly chariot brought us home again whilst we asng "Over the Bounding Main" as the water sloshed up against the bottom of the wagon—but we had our party.

Tonight we get together to formulate rules and by-laws for the Soda Springs Ski Club sponsored by the Soda Springs Ski Corporation. Tony Donadio has been elected president; Carl Buek, fat[illegible] of the famous Soda Springs skiing family and of the mountain pride and joy, Dick Buek, secretary treasurer; while Bud Zorich, Ernest Nordstrum, Henry Piche, Ernest Tschopp and ourselves put our feet under the same table with the title of board of directors. The arm patch which is already under construction is the snowflake and great is the enthusiasm for the new order. Racing for juniors, more competition, developing racing talent now available — these are some of the projects that will be started immediately. As soon as rules and by-laws are prepared, we become a member of the Far West Ski Association.

Down the hill a way, Betty Vicencio capably operates her Sierra Gift Shop and now she adds a line of ski equipment and accessories, preparatory to keeping her shop open year 'round. Across Foolish Forty, her amiable husband, Tommy, brushes his hands and says "that's that" as he contemplates a cleared hill, a new fireplace and the new rope that makes up the tow on the Sitski Ski Hill at Cisco.

Their next door neighbor, "Little Jack" Walsh, all six feet four of him, reports an improved ski jump and terrain, a lot of improvement in the warming hut and a new coffee shop in the oldest of clubs, the Auburn Ski Club. With all the Cisco Grove improvements that we speak of, a spirit of cooperation has prevailed to the extent that the little community has joined hands in all out promotional and public relations campaign that forecasts success for the coming season.

While our feet are still wet, we will return to view more glimpses of the recent floods. We just called Roy and Jess Thompson, who live ten miles back in the real back country, The Cedars. Roy and Jess, superintending the holdings of the North Fork Association members, are practically isolated. After the first storm they made their way out in a weapon's carrier which they winched across roaring Onion Creek which, they tell us, has cut two new channels and is 100 feet wide in spots. Laboring long and hard to repair their only means of communication, their telephone, whose lines had been taken down by falling trees, they took time out to build themselves a ford across Onion Creek, for neither strip nor string of the Onion Creek steel bridge could be found. Needless to say, the last flood took out their ford. If snow comes, said tired Jess over the repaired line today, they'll try to make it out in their Sno-Go. Another freak of the storm and flood in that same vicinity was the little damaged trailer that went on down the river in the Onion Creek torrent. While the force of the water twisted the bridge from its moorings, the same deluge barely damaged the big house trailer that was parked on the banks of the creek. However, as far as we can ascertain, the high water and boggy condition of the terrain has prevented the owner f the trailer from retreiving it from the grip of the flood.

Daisy Smith's house at Rainbow seems to have suffered more than any in that area for a tree yanked up its roots from the sodden soil and floated with the Yuba through one of Daisy's windows. After exploring the inside of the house, it rested its head in the fireplace and left its butt, complete with roots, hanging out the window, whose casing was left undamaged. Shelves four feet from the floor in the Smith house have been decorated for Christmas with pine cones, rocks and silt. The Dr. Hand residence, Glacier Gap at Rainbow, had an internal bath with a fire hose to cleanse it of Yuba silt. Rainbow Tavern's basement was a whirlpool that turned over a heavily packed deep freezing unit and made Doris Chaplin's new Laundromt a resting place for sticks and stones. Pumps vibrated that strongly built rock hostelry as they threw the basement's waters back into the Yuba from whence it came.

And there is one question we'd like to ask of the sportsmen in this area. What happens to all the trout and fingerlings that make their homes in our rivers, lakes and streams after a deluge like this? Are there any left or have they joined their salt water kin of the sea?

North Tahoe

by T. BURROUGHS

The North Tahoe Christmas Committee is functioning again. Plans are working toward a grand Christmas party for North Tahoe children and all who are interested in them. Tom Lucas' show house is to be the location with the program starting at 7:30 p.m. December 21. The children will put on a several hour program. There will be Santa Claus with all the trimmings. It is the intention and wish of the committee to give all a Merry, Good Christmas time. More information will be given later. One point in particular the committee wants to emphasize is that all local organizations are donating to this project to make our Christmas a happy one. Any person or group wishing to contribute further financially please feel free to do so. The committee will accept all contributions gratefully.

The Women's Club of North Tahoe held its regular meeting on November 20 at the Kings Beach school with 61 in attendance. During the business meeting, plans were discussed and formulated for a dance which is to take place at Carpenters' Hall on the evening of December 16 with the Kings Beach PTA and the Women's Club as co-sponsors. Then plans for a membership Christmas party were begun.

Everybody come out to the dance sponsored by the PTA and the Women's Club December 16 and have a wonderful time. Admission: adults, $1; students 50 cents. Refreshments will be served. There will be good music and the spirit of gaiety will be in full swing.

Brockway Rotary held its regular meeting Monday night at Hunter's Inn. Having no guest speaker, the meeting was given over to discussion of the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children activities, with the membership voting to turn over all fines levied during that and the next meetings to a fund for the Shrine Hospital. The current contribution proved to be considerable.

The Low XII Club will sponsor a free show to be given at Tom Lucas' show house on the night of December 12. This program will include a picture describing the good work done at the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children. The Shriners have a new hospital at Los Angeles. San Francisco is the home of a much older Shrine hospital and so is Salt Lake, under jurisdiction of which your local program operates.

A trip down into the San Joaquin Valley last week convinces us that Lake Tahoeites are not so badly off. Those flood waters down there really framed a dirty picture.

A card from Harry Stubley says he's having a wonderful time in New York visiting his mother. Expects to be back in Kings Beach for the beginning of the New Year.

Frank and Fern James have filed a civil action in superior court at Auburn for $9,950 against the North Tahoe Public Utility District and its contractors for damage to resort cabins they say was caused when the district ordered a sewer constructed through their property.

TAHOE LETTER

Hear the Ralph Sturgis family is now on an extended tour of the south, at present awaiting the celebration of the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. Their Tahoe Park store is being conducted during their absence by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beavers, who were in charge of Tahoe Park campgrounds this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watson of Shingle were in town Wednesday last for the day, visiting their Tahoe City home for some of their personal belongings. Mrs. Watson observed a birthdate on November 20.

Have been asked by Verne Bartell to announce that the children's Christmas party will be held again this year at a date as yet to be decided on. All organizations and individuals are requested to donate as generously as they can afford toward this worthy venture. Already the Women's Club of Tahoe has sent in a check for $25 to Miss Kay Starratt, who has volunteered her services and to whom checks should be made out. Another donor is James Gowing who sent along $20. Any amount will be welcomed and appreciated. This event has been traditional in Tahoe City, where the names of all local children are secured in advance and each is given a nice present from a real Santa who last year arrived in his sled, piled high with toys, drawn by beautiful white dogs. The party is held at the base of Tahoe City's huge lighted pondersosa Christmas tree which stands in front of Conger's Cafe. From a platform Santa will distribute gifts, candy and nuts, which local merchants donate.

On Thursday night last, a packed auditorium greeted the PTA sponsored gathering of parents and interested persons who were invited to meet for a discussion of current school problems. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. June Grinstead, president of the Tahoe Lake PTA, others on the rostrum including Mrs. Laura Wilson, secretary; Mrs. Max Porter, treasurer, and Mrs. Violet Pomin, who has given generously of her time to direct the investigation. Briefly, the parents wanted to know why spelling and arithmetic papers have not been sent home for inspection; why spelling books arrived for some classes as late as three weeks ago; why their children's morale appears to have been disturbed by the present controversy between teachers and parents. These are only a few of many questions being asked and which the group calling itself the "Citizens' Committee," is seeking to answer. Increasing dissatisfaction has been expressed and a series of meetings is planned during which a satisfactory answer will be sought for each question. This may be difficult but Superintendent E. V. O'Rourke, who was present, assured the group that every effort will be made to cooperate fully to get at the root of the problems. He extended an invitation for the committee to meet with the board of education at any time they could arrange it and expressed surprise at some of the points which were brought out in the discussions. He urged the investigation proceed along impersonal, unbiased lines and complimented Mrs. Pomin for her efforts in attempting to restore harmony between the school, the students and parents and regretted that the problems had not been brought to him directly when they came up. Dates of future meetings will be published in the Sierra Sun and all interested are invited to attend. Home made cakes and coffee were served by members of the PTA following the meeting.

One of the best crowds to turn out for a Lake Tahoe Ski Club meeting this season was present last Friday night, around 70 in attendance. President Bill Jenkinson presided with minutes of the previous meeting read by Mrs. Wesley Donaldson and a financial report given by Treasurer Arthur Frodenberg. A detailed report of work on the club's Olympic Hill jumps was given by Rusty Frodenbeng who indicated a marvelous job was almost completed by the cat drivers, supervised by Kjell Rustad. Because of a contractor's error in estimating the work, the club will receive far more for its $500 than it bargained for. The hill, according to Rusty, will afford jumps of at least 220 feet and over when completed. Construction of the new take-offs is being rushed before snow flies. A complete new contour will be accomplished on the jumps, with brush removed at the outturns and the creek encased in large barrels installed by Rustad at the base of the hill and donted by Floyd Carnell. Refreshments and a fish and game commission movie rounded out the evening's entertainment.

The Sterling Ralphs of Big Chief Camp have been hauling in dirt to cover their pipes which were bared by the last flood when all soil was washed away by the Truckee River, right down to rock bottom.

Jim Baker passed all tests in Sacramento but missed being a highway patrolman by half an inch. He lost somewhere along the way since being discharged from the army that five foot nine required and which his army papers showed. He and Einar Wethal had a bit of bad luck Friday while working on Granlibakken Hill. The cat was dragging one of the 40 foot trees off the hill as the boys walked back up the hill. The roots hung up when they dug into the ground and the tip swung around striking both boys on the sides of their legs. Both were knocked down but fortunately no bones were broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Snyder were hosts on Wednesday evening, November 29, at a dinner party at their Lake Forest home honoring the birthdate of Mrs. Herb Mattheus of Carnelian Bay. Guests who shared the pleasant occasion included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Starnes of Tahoe City, the honoree and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Yeakel of Lake Forest have moved to the Sacramento valley area for the winter months.

Wind this up for the week on Monday morning as the sun tries to shine through a heavy, cloud-filled sky. Best of luck to one and all, as ever, Swanee.

How can you pass up prices like these?

As we've been saying for quite a spell — "Whatever your price range—Better buy Buick."

But maybe we'd better get down to brass tacks, as to just what this suggestion means.

In the lower-price field, this has been happening:

Four out of ten Buick SPECIALS—bought by people with a car to trade in—have been bought by folks who formerly drove one of the so-called "low-priced three." They found they could afford a Buick!

In the fine-car field, something even more impressive has happened:

Four out of five people who looked at a ROADMASTER and another very distinguished automobile decided in favor of ROADMASTER!

So — whatever your price range, take a look at our prices — and at what you get for your money.

What you get is the thrill of owning the greatest Buick of all time — as registered by record-breaking sales.

What you get is power and style and comfort and performance that are hard to match in any other automobile.

More specifically — you get the power-with-thrift of Buick's famous Fireball high-compression engine — a style that stands out in any company—a ride with the comfort of coil springs on every wheel — and performance that makes you feel like the head man on any highway.

Better come in today — and see what can be done about getting quick delivery.

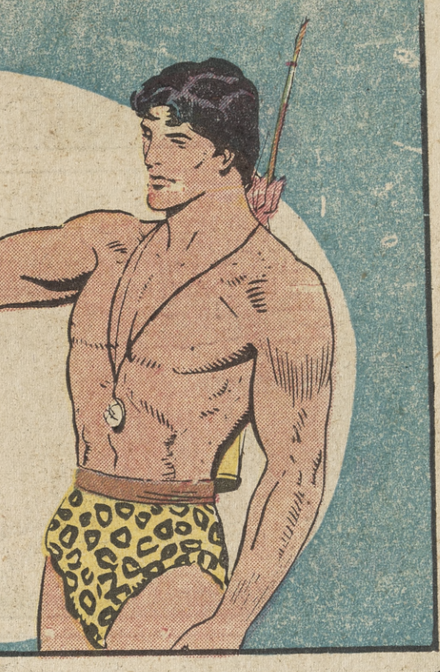
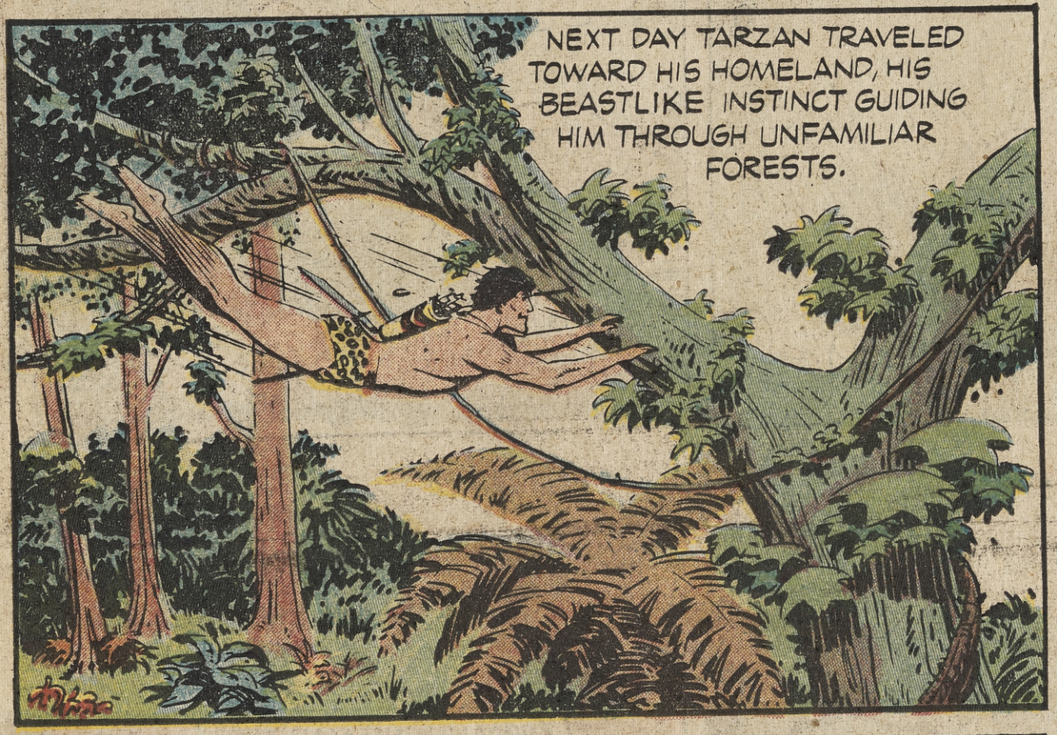
Tarzan®

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

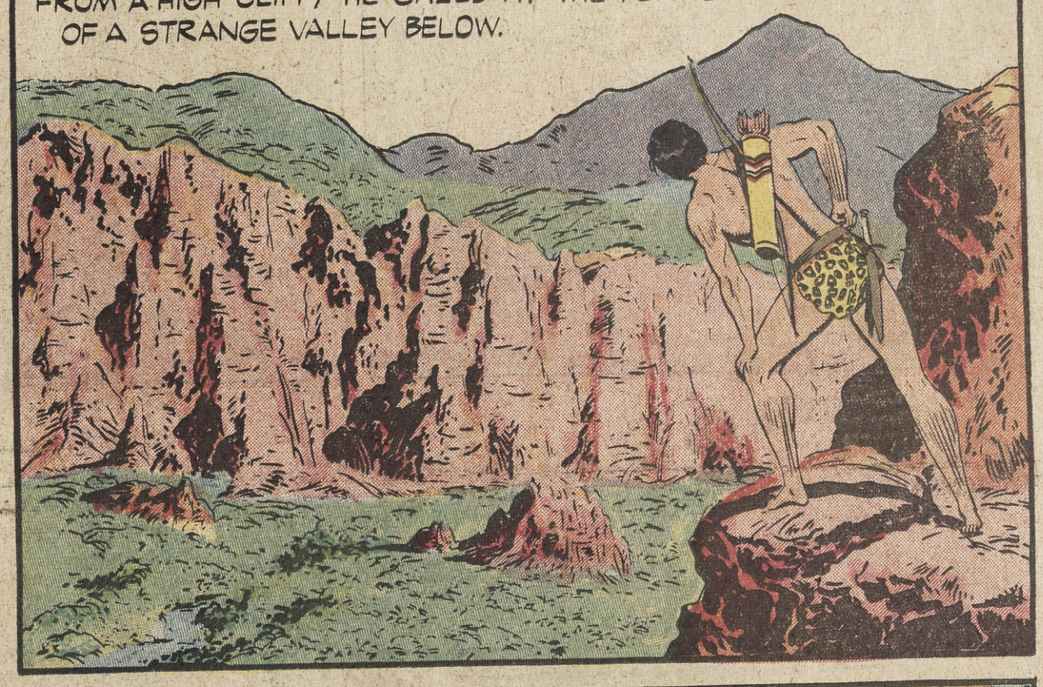
TARZAN DESTROYED BLAKE'S BOAT, THUS PRESERVING THE SECRET OF AMBERA. THEN HE BID THE FAITHFUL APE RETURN TO THE YELLOW LAND FOR THERE COULD BE NO PLACE FOR HIM IN THE OUTSIDE WORLD.



NEXT DAY TARZAN TRAVELED TOWARD HIS HOMELAND, HIS BEASTLIKE INSTINCT GUIDING HIM THROUGH UNFAMILIAR FORESTS.



FROM A HIGH CLIFF, HE GAZED AT THE FERTILE BEAUTY OF A STRANGE VALLEY BELOW.



SUDDENLY FROM BEHIND CAME THE WARNING COUGH OF NUMA, THE LION! DOWNWIND FROM TARZAN, HE ESCAPED DETECTION UNTIL NOW!
